PRESBYTERIANS CALL NEW PASTOR

CALDWELL, IDAHO, MINISTER TO HEAD MARYVILLE CHURCH.

REV. W. M. CASE TO COME SEPTEMBER 1

Chosen Over 50 Others—The Rev. S. D. Harkness to Immanuel Church, Kansas City.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian church has extended a unanimous call to the Rev. William Moll Case, now pastor of the Presbyterian church of Caldwell, Idaho, to take charge of the Maryville church at the expiration on September 1 of the pastorate of the Rev. Samuel D. Harkness who resigned to take that of the Immanuel Presbyterian church at Kansas City.

At the close of the special called congregational meeting held last night at which the name of Mr. Case was formally presented by the pulpit committee and voted upon by the church body, a wire was sent Mr. Case informing him of the call made. The acceptance of the charge by Mr. Case is practically a matter of certainty, as the members of the pulpit committee, in correspondence with him, have been assured of it, should the call be extended.

Is Known by People Here.

Mr. Case is personally known to many of the congregation. He preached at the church at the time the pulpit was vacant just before the pastorate of Mr. Harkness. When the pulpit was again vacated by the resignation of the present pastor, the desire of the congregation was to secure Mr. Case without delay so that there would be no cessation of services.

The pulpit committee which is composed of S. G. Gillam, Charles Wadley, G. H. Colbert, C. E. Wells, Jim Andy Ford, S. E. Farmer and Roy J. Curfman, received sixty applications from ministers wishing to come here.

Is Graduate of Yale and Auburn

Mr. Case is 32 years old and has been in the ministry ten years. He was born at Highland, Kansas, March 16, 1883. He graduated from the Highland college in 1902, entered the junior year at Yale and graduated from there in 1904 with the degree of B. A. The year following he was assistant pastor to the late Roswell Bates at the Spring street church in New York City.

Mr. Case then spent a summer working among the mountaineers of North Carolina, supplied the pulpit at Joplin, Mo., for a year and then returned to Auburn Theological seminary, Auburn, N. Y., where he graduated in 1907.

His first regular pastorate was at the Greeley Memorial church in St. Louis, where he remained three and a half years, and then to Caldwell, Idaho, his present charge, which he has filled for three and a half years.

At present Mr. Case is chairman of Home Missions in the synod of Idaho, which is the most important place in synod work.

Has Attractive Wife.

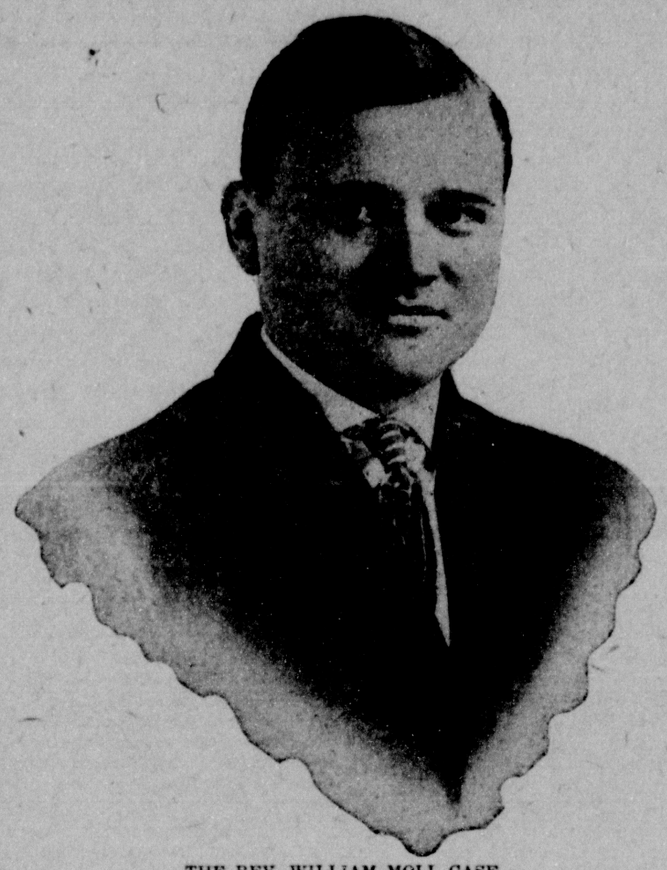
Mr. Case was married in 1908 to Miss Mabel Hamm of Highland, Kan. Mrs. Case is a graduate of Park college, Parkville, Mo., and is also a musician of exceptional talent. During their residence in Caldwell Mrs. Case has had charge of the glee club of the College of Idaho, situated at Caldwell, and is director of the church choir. They have no children.

Mrs. Case is personally known by several in this city who were students at Park college at the time she attended, and is a charming and cultured young woman.

The Rev. Mr. Case is a young man of unusual ability, a fine speaker and of an attractive personality.

Mr. Harkness took the pastorate of the church in February, 1912, coming here from Columbus, Neb. Since his coming to Maryville the First Presbyterian church has been very progressive and has had an unprecedented growth in both membership and church activity. The first call to the Immanuel church was given Mr. Harkness last spring. He declined this, and the call was renewed a few months later, and after consideration, was accepted. He and his family will go to Kansas City in time for Mr. Harkness to take up his duties September 1.

Will Become Presbyterian Pastor Here



THE REV. WILLIAM MOLL CASE.

RENAMES BELLOWS TO BOARD

Maryville Resident Retains Place in Agricultural Body—Appoints One New Member.

Charles D. Bellows of Maryville has been reappointed a member of the Missouri state board of agriculture, according to announcement made yesterday by Governor Major. Four other members were appointed, three of them to succeed themselves. The new one is George W. Arnold of Sedalia, a Democrat, who succeeds N. H. Gentry, whose term had expired.

Each appointment is effective at once and ends next December, when the board will be reorganized, to comply with a law passed by the last legislature.

The members named, in addition to Mr. Bellows and Mr. Arnold, are:

SUE CITY FOR $2,000 DAMAGE

Sallie Bluel, East First, Again Claims Grading for Pavement Injured Property—Lost Before.

Suit for $2,000 damage from the city of Maryville, on the ground that the grading for the paving of East First street in 1907 damaged her property at Charles and First streets, was filed in circuit court today by Sallie Bluel. A suit was formerly filed for the same cause soon after the improvement was made, but on demurrer filed by the city and upheld by the circuit court here the case was lost.

The city at that time filed the demurrer on the grounds that she showed no cause for action in that the charges were against certain city officials, not the city itself. This time she rectifies that error.

Mrs. Bluel alleges that by so cutting down the grade there the value of her half block, or three lots, there was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

Mrs. Elmer Thompson and Mrs. Bird Thompson of Bedison spent yesterday visiting friends in Maryville.

TO IMPROVE PLANT

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS CONSIDERS REPAIR WORK TONIGHT.

MAY ENFORCE WALLS

City Body Plans Reinforcements for East and South Sides—To Fix Receiving Well.

Several new improvements, or rather repairs, of the municipal water plant works at the 102 river are to be considered at the monthly meeting of the board of public works tonight, in addition to the usual routine business and allowing of bills.

One of the propositions to come up tonight is to strengthen and repair the receiving well at the plant. This is the well east of the plant, from which the river water from the reservoirs is pumped direct to the stand pipe in the north part of town.

While it is not intended to enlarge the well, it is proposed to better brace and strengthen the walls, so that there is no danger of a cave-in in case of flood or heavy rains.

It is also proposed to place channel irons through the east wall of the pumping plant, to further strengthen it and lessen the danger of its caving in during floods or heavy rains. These irons are run through the walls and thence out some distance east of the plant and anchored. This prevents the wall from leaning either way.

To Repair Reservoir, Too.

The repair of the outer reservoir, where the river cut through recently, also will probably be considered tonight.

The laying of larger mains from the pump house to the sand point wells has already been ordered, but not installed yet, S. G. Gillam, president of the board, said this morning. The south wall of the pumping plant also is being strengthened by a concrete retaining wall.

COUNCIL MEETS TOMORROW

City Dads to Take Up Sidewalk Improvement But Not Paving at Regular Meet.

The city council will meet in regular monthly session tomorrow night, but little business outside of routine matters is scheduled to come up for consideration. No paving propositions will come up, it is reported, as the time for filing remonstrances to the proposed paving does not expire until August 15, and no new paving has since been broached.

Ordinances to install sidewalks in several parts of the city, as ordered at the last meeting by the council, will be presented for passage tonight by City Attorney W. H. Crawford.

PLAN 2 BRIDGES IN MONROE

County Court Decides to Reconstruct Third of Spans Over White Cloud Following Inspection.

Two wooden bridges over the White Cloud creek, in Monroe township, washed out by the recent floods, are to be built at once by the county, following an inspection in that district yesterday by the county court. One will be built east of the farm of A. L. Oakerson, while the other will span the creek near the Reaksecker place.

An inspection of just one section in that vicinity yesterday by the court members brought out the fact that there are six bridges over the White Cloud damaged or washed out, and the roads there made impassable. Each averaged a length of between 60 and 125 feet.

The temporary bridges to be built at once will cost about $200 each. Part of the old bridge is still left near the Oakerson place, so that the cost of its reconstruction might be less than $200.

FEDS PLAY TIP TOPS SUNDAY

St. Joseph Team Comes for Game Here With Strengthened Maryville Nine.

The Maryville Federals will play the St. Joseph Tip Tops at Federal park at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Federals had intended to play out of town Sunday, but on account of the changing of the Chautauqua from the Normal park to the Central school grounds it was decided to hold a game here.

The Tip Tops are considered a rather fast amateur team. They were slated to appear here last Sunday, but on account of rain and tied-up train service Hopkins was substituted.

The Maryville lineup will be: Willey, p; Richardson, c; Tilson, 1b; Morris, 2b; Miller, 3b; Scott, ss; Ham, lf; Carmichael, cf; Woodard, rf.

The infield of the Federals will probably be further strengthened prior to the game here with the Stanberry Red Sox, August 15, Cleve Funk, manager, announced today.

AT WARSAW FORTS

TEUTONS BATTER FORTIFICATIONS AROUND POLISH CAPITAL.

RUSS SLOWLY RETREAT

Slavs Continue to Give Way to German-Austro Assaults—Fighting Almost Ceases in the West.

London, Aug. 5.—After having tried for three weeks to force the Russians to evacuate Warsaw and the Polish salient by encircling movements from the north and pressure from the west, the Austro-Germans have commenced attacks on the fortresses of the capital and those of Lomza and Ostrolenka to the northeast and Ivangorod to the southeast.

Berlin claims that the Russians have been driven back to the advanced defenses of Lomza; that the Narew has been crossed near Ostrolenka; that driven out of their Blonie positions the Russians have fallen back into the outer lines of Warsaw, which the Bavarians are attacking, and that the Austrians have captured the western part of the fortress of Ivangorod.

Thus, what should prove a decisive battle for the Polish capital has begun in earnest.

In the meantime Field Marshal von Mackenzen is slowly advancing from the southeast between the Vistula and the Bug in an effort to cut off the Russian armies, which apparently are making a leisurely exit from Warsaw and the western lines; while General von Buelow, in his wider encircling movement through Courland, has reached Kupischki, on the Vilna-Petrograd railway.

Although the operations of Von Mackenzen and Von Buelow appear to offer the most dangerous threats to the retiring Russian armies, the Russian general staff is paying more attention to Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who has been trying with more or less success to force the line of the Narew. Here the Russians are offering the most stubborn resistance, and, according to an official dispatch from Petrograd, in two battles of three days each succeeded in checking the Germans and inflicting heavy losses on them. The Russians also admit severe casualties.

When the dispatch was sent a third battle was in progress. Berlin claims that in this battle the Germans have been successful and have forced a crossing of the Narew near Ostrolenka.

On the whole the Russians, so far as can be gathered from official reports, are making an extremely orderly retirement. They are losing comparatively few prisoners and, except for the thirty-two guns abandoned to the west of Ivangorod, the Germans make no claims to the capture of heavy pieces of artillery.

Quiet has settled down along the western front, except in the Argonne and the Vosges, where German attempts to recapture lost ground or take new trenches have failed, according to the French communication.

The extra legs protrude from the left side about three ribs back of the shoulder and are developing into well formed legs.

BOOSTERS PLAYING GUILFORD

Weekly Base Ball Contest On at Normal—Wakeman Twirls for Lomal—Wakeman Twirls for Lo-

The Maryville Boosters and the Guilford baseball team played at the Normal grounds this afternoon, with a fairly large crowd of rooters present. The game began shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, so as to permit the Guilford players and fans to catch the Burlington southbound train. All other remaining games of the season will be held at the usual time of 4 o'clock.

Very little line can be gotten on the Guilford team in advance, as the nine was but recently organized and has therefore played few games. They have several non-resident players, however, which will materially strengthen the team.

The lineup of the two teams this afternoon is:

Guilford—Ham, p; McKee, c; Kelley, 1b; Hubble, 2b; E. Richards, 3b; Noland, ss; Cleo Richards, lf; Brittain, cf; Robinson, rf.

Maryville—Wakeman, p; Wogan, c; Wray, 1b; Still, 2b; Browning, 3b; Palfreyman, ss; E. Adams, lf; Vandersloot, cf; Moore, rf.

THE CHIGGER-- ITS HABITS

Treatise on "the Pest," Is Given by the Government—To Cure Its Wounds. Try These Methods.

Throughout portions of the south, east and the central states the chigger or red bug, scientifically known as the harvest mite, and which is microsopic in size, often attacks a person when walking through long grass or other vegetation. They do not choose any particular part of the body, but attack the exposed portions first.

Thus the barefoot boy in many parts of the South and East has become acquainted with these red eight-legged pests. They enter the large sweat tubes or pores of the skin, where their progress is necessarily slow, and a few hours later the spot where they entered becomes very painful or causes intense itching.

Chiggers are most abundant and troublesome in the tropics, but are generally distributed in the Gulf states up the Mississippi river to Missouri and Illinois, and through the Atlantic coast states to northern New Jersey. These pests are most bothersome between the months of June and October.

The large inflamed spots which the presence of the mites under the first layer of skin cause are often diagnosed as hives, nettle rash, urticaria, or "wheals," and closely resemble the "bites" of fleas and of some mosquitoes. A characteristic of the harvest mite attack is that on the second or third day a minute water blister usually develops in the middle of the infested area.

To walk among blackberry or other shrubbery, or to come in contact with grasses or similar herbage along streams or pools, on edges of marshes, or under trees near such places the mites inhabit, is to invite an attack. It is obvious, therefore, that the best preventive is to avoid exposure. If a bath in hot water, or water containing salt or strong soap, however, is taken within a few hours after exposure, no ill effects will be experienced.

Sulphur is the best preventive for chiggers. It has been found, according to the bulletin, that a person walking through vegetation is attacked from the knees down, so by sifting flowers of sulphur in the underclothing from the knees downward, and into the shoes and stockings, these mites are eliminated to a great extent. Naphthalene is also successfully used in the same manner, and is a safeguard against several other forms of man-infesting tropical insect pests.

After a person has become exposed to an attack of harvest mites, an application to the affected parts of a moderately strong solution of ammonia is possibly the best counter-irritant. Because the poison secreted by the mites is acid, other counter-irritants such as bicarbonate of soda, or common cooking soda or saleratus, may be substituted in saturated solution. If the suffering is severe, a dilute tincture of iodine or collodion should be lightly applied.

Where a large area is to be rid of mites, it is recommended by the bulletin that the grass be closely cut, weeds eliminated, and useless herbage mowed as closely as feasible, so as to expose the mites to the sun. It may be practical to spray the grass and other plants, after cutting, with flowers of sulphur or a dilute spray of kerosene emulsion in which sulphur has been mixed.

Grasses bordering on ponds frequented by cattle, wild blackberry bushes, and similar plants should be cut down and destroyed in the vicinity of houses where people are liable to be infested by the mites by passing through them. Vegetable growth has been successfully kept down by the use of cattle, sheep and goats.

ADOPT COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW

South Carolina and Texas Make Education Necessary—Four Southern States Out.

With South Carolina and Texas enrolled on the list of states that have compulsory school attendance laws as a result of 1915 legislation, the states without compulsory laws are now reduced to four, Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi.

While the South Carolina and Texas laws are not as comprehensive and strict as those of some of the other states that have had compulsory laws for many years, they are a distinct recognition of the compulsory principle and represent a big step forward in the two states.

The Texas law requires all children between the ages of 8 and 14 to attend school 60 days the first year, 80 days the second year and 100 days thereafter in every school year. It provides for attendance officers, fixes penalties for violations, and provides for the establishment of parental or truant schools where necessary. The law goes into effect September 1, 1916.

The South Carolina law is optional, but the state authorities are hopeful that a large proportion of the districts will vote to have the law apply to them. State Superintendent Swearigen is urging that "every local tax district circulate its compulsory attendance petition at once, hold its election, and put every child in school during 1915-16."

Uses Auto to Kill Gophers.

Since the gophers are becoming such pests in this locality a few of our farmers and citizens might try this method of an Iowa farmer who lives south of Avoca, and had been having a great deal of trouble of late by the gophers eating and digging in his alfalfa.

He took his automobile to the field and attached a rubber hose to the exhaust pipe and placed the other end of the hose into a newly made mound. In a very short time he saw smoke coming from the ground 150 feet away. He says the experiment resulted in the killing of a large number of gophers, and he has not been annoyed by the pests since.

SOW ALFALFA IN SUMMER.

Experience in Iowa Gives Preference to This Practice Over Spring Seeding.

On most Iowa soils the surest method of getting a good stand of alfalfa is to seed in late summer according to the state experiment authorities.

In this method the seeding may be on summer fallowed land, plowed in the spring or the preceding fall, or on land which has just been cropped with winter wheat, or from which red clover or oats has been cut early for hay. According to facts gathered by the agricultural experiment station at the Iowa state college, late summer seeding in Iowa has only about nine per cent of failures, while spring seeding has twenty-three per cent.

If alfalfa seeding is to follow the removal of a winter wheat or red clover or oats crop, the land is prepared much as though for summer fallowing. It is very important that the crop be gotten off the land at the earliest possible date, manure applied and the land disked and plowed.

When the work has been thorough and commenced as early as possible, it has been very satisfactory except in seasons of very low rainfall. The summer fallow is, however, considered as the surer, when the work is thorough.

The chief advantage of fall seeding lies in the fact that the land may be quite well freed from weeds before the alfalfa is sown. The main disadvantages are that more work will be required to keep the land in such condition as will insure a sufficient supply of moisture, and also that insect ravages are more likely to be fatal.

Production of Phosphate Rock.

The production of phosphate rock in the United States in 1914, as shown by figures compiled by W. C. Phalen, of the United States Geological Survey, was 2,734,043 long tons, valued at $9,608,041, a decrease of 377,178 long tons in quantity and of $2,188,190 in value from the output of 1913. The output came, as usual, principally from Florida, Tennessee, and South Carolina, in the order named.

Brick and Tile Production.

The great brick and tile industries of the United States in 1914 produced material to the value of $129,588,822. This was a considerable decrease, according to the United States Geological Survey, from the value for 1913, which was $143,296,757, but as compared with the output for a number of years preceding it shows a general growth for the industry. Compared with 1911, the figures for 1914 show an increase of $1,871,201; compared with 1908 they show a gain of $21,526,615.

WILSON'S POLICY CRITICISED

German-Americans Call Munitions Traffic Unmoral.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Protests against the "unmoral traffic in arms and ammunition" with England, the English viewpoint in public opinion on the European war and criticism of the government's attitude toward Germany were expressed in resolutions unanimously adopted by the National German American alliance, assembled here in its eighth annual convention.

The resolutions declared the loyalty of German-Americans represented at the convention to be steadfast, but say, "We deplore that our government has on the part of England practically permitted violations of international law and interference with commerce, to the detriment of American interests and has on the part of another country, Mexico, supinely suffered the destruction of American life and property, while in the case of Germany it quickly assumed a threatening and uncompromising attitude."

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—Members of the executive council of the B'nai B'rith, in session here declared that the condition of the Jews in Russia had not been improved notwithstanding reports of concessions at the beginning of the European war. It was charged by speakers that Jews were being used as shields by the Russian soldiers in the trenches.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

State of Missouri, county of Nodaway, ss.

In the circuit court, September term, 1915.

Now at this day comes the plaintiff herein in person and files his petition and affidavit, alleging, among other things that defendant, Lena Page, is not a resident of the state of Missouri, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon her within this state.

Whereupon, it is ordered by the undersigned clerk in vacation that said defendant be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against her in this court, the object and general nature of which is to obtain a decree of divorce from defendant, Lena Page, on the ground that defendant has abandoned plaintiff without a reasonable cause, for the space of one whole year next before the filing of petition in this cause, and that unless the said Lena Page be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, to be begun and holden at the court house in the city of Maryville, in said county, on the 27th day of September next, and on or before the first day of said term, unless further time be granted by the court, answer or demur to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed, and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published, according to law, in the Democrat-Forum, a newspaper published in said county of Nodaway, for four weeks successively, published at least once a week, the last insertion to be at least fifteen days before the first day of said next September, 1915, term of this court.

NEGRO CELEBRATE

HUNDREDS TOOK PART IN EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION.

CONCERTS DREW MANY

Musicales of Omaha Band Proved Popular Among Whites, Too—Dance and Athletic Contests Held.

The negroes of Maryville are at work again today, after one big day of joy and jollification yesterday, in celebration of the emancipation of their race. And it might be said right here that there were more white persons at the celebration than negroes, and apparently they had just as great a time.

The celebration began shortly after noon and continued until after midnight, with very little intermission. It began with speaking and music, songs and athletic contests at the Franklin school grounds and wound up with a grand ball in the old armory hall. The emancipation proclamation was read by Mrs. James Malcolm for Miss Dorothy Palmer, who was ill.

Dr. M. O. Ritchie of St. Joseph, quite a well known negro orator, also appeared yesterday, but not being on the program, no speech was made by him.

The base ball game between the Black Sluggers and the Maryville Federals at Federal park resulted in a victory for the Feds by a score of 13 to 0.

These Won in Athletics.

Those winning the athletic contests yesterday afternoon were:

First race—William Binkley, first; Harley Page, second.

Second race—Henry Reynolds, first; William Binkley, second.

Third race—James Halasey, first; William Binkley, second.

Those winning first prize received a price of $1, and those finishing second received 50 cents.

A band concert was held at night on the court house lawn, and the human chariot race was held from Second to Fourth street on Main.

INSPECTS MILITIA EQUIPMENT

Captain Walter Mann, St. Joseph, Says Company F and Band Supplies Are Good.

The equipment and supplies of Company F, Fourth regiment, National Guards, and of the Fourth Regiment band were inspected yesterday afternoon by Captain Adjutant Walter Mann of St. Joseph. While both the company and band need some additional equipment before going to annual encampment next month, Captain Mann pronounced the present supplies good and well taken care of.

The entire equipment of Company F has been stacked and assorted in such shape by Captain John K. Ross and the quartermaster that the inspection of the supplies was made in a half hour, while generally it takes from one to two hours.

Captain Ross will probably have about forty-five men in encampment, while Chief Musician T. B. Maulding of the band expects to take a full quota, too. The encampment will be held September 6 to 12 inclusive at Kansas City.

INSISTS FRYE SINKING LEGAL

Germany Unyielding In Refusal to Admit Act Violated Treaty.

OFFERS TO MAKE PAYMENT.

Stipulates, However, That It Shall Not Be Viewed as Satisfaction For Violation of American Rights—Asks U. S. to Arbitrate at Hague.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Germany is unyielding in its refusal to concede that the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich in the south Atlantic last January was a violation of American rights under the Prussian-American treaty or international law.

In reply to the last representations of the United States, the German foreign office, in a note made public here by the state department, reiterates a previous justification of Germany's course, declares again its willingness to pay for the ship and accepts a proposal first advanced by the United States—that the amount of damages be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country.

Such a sum the German government pledges itself to pay promptly, with the stipulation, however, that the payment shall not be viewed as a satisfaction for violation of American rights. Should that method be unsatisfactory, Germany invites the United States to arbitration at The Hague.

It is practically certain that if the United States allows the dispute to go to The Hague, it will insist that meanwhile Germany refrain from violation of what the United States contends are its rights.

The entire dispute revolves about article 13 of the Prussian-American treaty. That article, the United States contends, specifically protected the William P. Frye from being sunk, although it did not protect a contraband cargo.

Takes Opposite View.

Germany takes precisely an opposite view, contending that the article only obligated it to pay damages. Furthermore, Germany replies that as the Frye's cargo of wheat destined to England was contraband, the ship was liable to confiscation, and that as an attempt to take the prize into a German port would have imperiled its captor, the destruction of the Frye "was according to general principles of international law."

"The right of sinking," says the German note, "is not mentioned in the treaty, and is therefore neither expressly permitted nor expressly prohibited, so that on his point the party stipulations must be supplemented by the general rules of international law. It is not disputed by the American government that according to the general principles of international law a belligerent is authorized in sinking neutral vessels under almost any conditions for carrying contraband."

The note argues at length for the German interpretation of the disputed treaty provision, contending that its intent is to establish a resonable compromise between the military interests of the belligerents' contracting party and the commercial interests of the neutral party.

"On the one hand," says the note, "the belligerent party is to have the right to prevent the transportation of war supplies to his adversaries, even when carried on vessels of the neutral party; on the other hand, the commerce and navigation of the neutral party is to be interfered with as little as possible by the measures necessary for such prevention and reasonable compensation is to be paid for any inconvenience or damage which may, nevertheless, ensue from the proceedings of the belligerent party."

That, in short, is Germany's argument, based on its interpretation of the treaty, and to that the view of the United States is squarely opposed.

REDFIELD ADJOURNS EASTLAND INQUIRY

Suspends Quiz Until Federal Grand Jury Acts.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce adjourned his inquiry into the Eastland disaster and will return to Washington until after the federal grand jury's investigation is concluded.

James Lee Ackerson, a government naval constructor from Washington, was called as a witness.

The witness said in the United States navy water ballast was used only on certain colliers and auxiliary vessels. Ackerson said he believed the Eastland's water ballast system safe if properly handled. He added that any vessel using water ballast required careful attention.

William P. Eels of Philadelphia, supervising inspector of the Travelers' Insurance company, testified he was engineer of the Eastland in 1904 and 1905. He said that the Eastland listed badly on one occasion while leaving the South Haven (Mich.) harbor, but that he considered it a safe boat if its water ballast was properly handled.

THIRTY PASSENGERS BURNED

Runaway Oil Car Hits Santa Fe Train In California.

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 5.—A runaway oil car collided with an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe local passenger train here, killing the engineer and setting fire to the train. The fireman and an express messenger are believed to have been burned to death.

The oil car, running down grade at a speed near sixty miles an hour, wrecked the oil burning locomotive of the passenger train, raining its cargo of oil over the coaches. The oil ignited from the firebox and the whole train instantly burst into flames. Thirty passengers were burned, but, according to railroad officials, none fatally. Automobiles, pressed into ambulance service at Yorba, brought the injured here.

More Marines Landed.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The Nashville landed marines at Cape Haitien, the navy department was advised. They sought to protect the city from revolutionists, expected to arrive soon.

FIFTY LIVES LOST IN ERIE DISASTER

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—Erie has listed twenty-seven dead in the mile long wreckage strewn path through the heart of the city swept by flood. But little impression was made on the vast amount of wreckage piled in places 100 feet high and believed by the coroner and others to conceal as many more victims.

The early estimate of property loss, placed at $3,000,000, was not changed by Fire Chief McMahon. He said that 300 houses and fifty store buildings were demolished by the waters of Mill creek, sent out of its banks by a cloudburst and the bursting if the Glenwood dam.

Mill creek empties into Lake Erie a mile from the center of the city. At its outlet searchers with nets are recovering bodies as they float out into the lake.

Obituary.

John M. Scott died at his home, on West First street, in this city, at 10 o'clock on the night of July 30, 1915, after a long illness. He had been partially paralyzed for nearly seven years. Mr. Scott and his brother, Winfield Scott, now deceased, came west in 1877 and settled on a farm five miles northwest of Maryville. John M. Scott was the son of Abraham Park Scott and Mary Woods Scott, and was born in Smithfield, Jefferson county, O., in 1843. He moved with his father to Birmingham, Guernsey county, in 1848. He had five brothers and one sister, and they are all deceased with the exception of one brother, William Woods Scott of Dayton, Mich. His wife, Mrs. Rachel A. Watson Scott, and a daughter, Mrs. Anna Cash of Cambridge, O., survive him. Mr. Scott's grandfather, Rev. Abraham Scott was a Presbyterian minister and did missionary work in eastern Ohio when that part of the state was a wilderness and inhabited only by a few white families and Indians. Two uncles of the deceased, the Hon. William Scott of Guernsey county, and the Hon. Josiah Scott of Cadiz, O., and their cousin, Hon. Josiah Scott of Bucyrus, O., all served their counties in the legislature at the same time and helped frame the state's constitution. His ancestors settled in Pennsylvania in 1650, when the population was less than 12,000. Mr. Scott's father died in 1889, and his mother in 1914 at the age of 100 years. John Scott was a Republican in politics and a member of the Presbyterian church. He was a gentleman in every sense of the word, kind-hearted, lovable, jovial and sympathetic, and always ready to do a kind act for some one. If he had an enemy it was unknown, and he made a friend of all.

CALDWELL, IDAHO, MINISTER TO HEAD MARYVILLE CHURCH.

REV. W. M. CASE TO COME SEPTEMBER 1

Chosen Over 50 Others—The Rev. S. D. Harkness to Immanuel Church, Kansas City.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian church has extended a unanimous call to the Rev. William Moll Case, now pastor of the Presbyterian church of Caldwell, Idaho, to take charge of the Maryville church at the expiration on September 1 of the pastorate of the Rev. Samuel D. Harkness who resigned to take that of the Immanuel Presbyterian church at Kansas City.

At the close of the special called congregational meeting held last night at which the name of Mr. Case was formally presented by the pulpit committee and voted upon by the church body, a wire was sent Mr. Case informing him of the call made. The acceptance of the charge by Mr. Case is practically a matter of certainty, as the members of the pulpit committee, in correspondence with him, have been assured of it, should the call be extended.

Is Known by People Here.

Mr. Case is personally known to many of the congregation. He preached at the church at the time the pulpit was vacant just before the pastorate of Mr. Harkness. When the pulpit was again vacated by the resignation of the present pastor, the desire of the congregation was to secure Mr. Case without delay so that there would be no cessation of services.

The pulpit committee which is composed of S. G. Gillam, Charles Wadley, G. H. Colbert, C. E. Wells, Jim Andy Ford, S. E. Farmer and Roy J. Curfman, received sixty applications from ministers wishing to come here.

Is Graduate of Yale and Auburn

Mr. Case is 32 years old and has been in the ministry ten years. He was born at Highland, Kansas, March 16, 1883. He graduated from the Highland college in 1902, entered the junior year at Yale and graduated from there in 1904 with the degree of B. A. The year following he was assistant pastor to the late Roswell Bates at the Spring street church in New York City.

Mr. Case then spent a summer working among the mountaineers of North Carolina, supplied the pulpit at Joplin, Mo., for a year and then returned to Auburn Theological seminary, Auburn, N. Y., where he graduated in 1907.

His first regular pastorate was at the Greeley Memorial church in St. Louis, where he remained three and a half years, and then to Caldwell, Idaho, his present charge, which he has filled for three and a half years.

At present Mr. Case is chairman of Home Missions in the synod of Idaho, which is the most important place in synod work.

Has Attractive Wife.

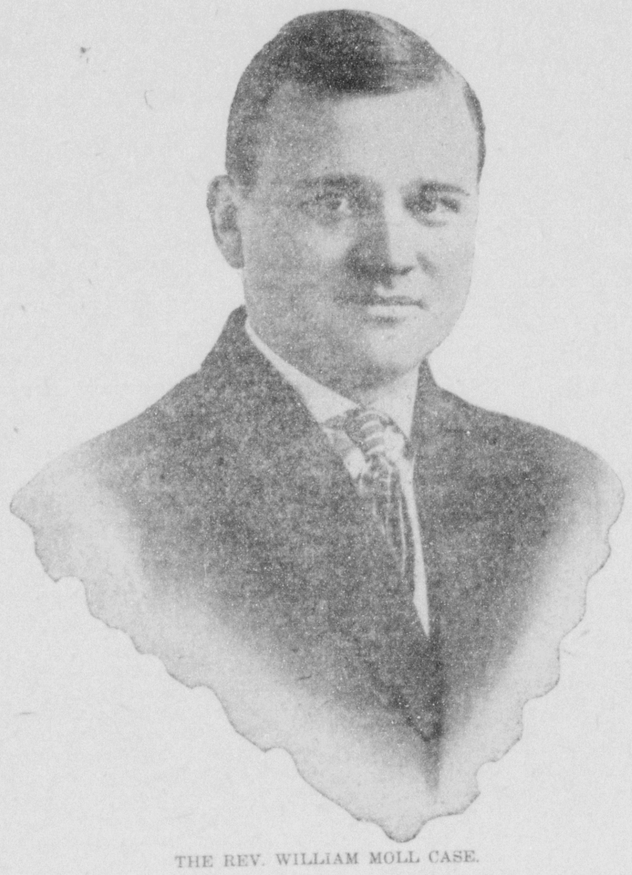
Mr. Case was married in 1908 to Miss Mabel Hamm of Highland, Kan. Mrs. Case is a graduate of Park college, Parkville, Mo., and is also a musician of exceptional talent. During their residence in Caldwell Mrs. Case has had charge of the glee club of the College of Idaho, situated at Caldwell, and is director of the church choir. They have no children.

Mrs. Case is personally known by several in this city who were students at Park college at the time she attended, and is a charming and cultured young woman.

The Rev. Mr. Case is a young man of unusual ability, a fine speaker and of an attractive personality.

Mr. Harkness took the pastorate of the church in February, 1912, coming here from Columbus, Neb. Since his coming to Maryville the First Presbyterian church has been very progressive and has had an unprecedented growth in both membership and church activity. The first call to the Immanuel church was given Mr. Harkness last spring. He declined this, and the call was renewed a few months later, and after consideration, was accepted. He and his family will go to Kansas City in time for Mr. Harkness to take up his duties September 1.

Will Become Presbyterian Pastor Here



THE REV. WILLIAM MOLL CASE.

RENAMES BELLOWS TO BOARD

Maryville Resident Retains Place in Agricultural Body—Appoints One New Member.

Charles D. Bellows of Maryville has been reappointed a member of the Missouri state board of agriculture, according to announcement made yesterday by Governor Major. Four other members were appointed, three of them to succeed themselves. The new one is George W. Arnold of Sedalia, a Democrat, who succeeds N. H. Gentry, whose term had expired.

Each appointment is effective at once and ends next December, when the board will be reorganized, to comply with a law passed by the last legislature.

The members named, in addition to Mr. Bellows and Mr. Arnold, are:

SUE CITY FOR $2,000 DAMAGE

Sallie Bluel, East First, Again Claims Grading for Pavement Injured Property—Lost Before.

Suit for $2,000 damage from the city of Maryville, on the ground that the grading for the paving of East First street in 1907 damaged her property at Charles and First streets, was filed in circuit court today by Sallie Bluel. A suit was formerly filed for the same cause soon after the improvement was made, but on demurrer filed by the city and upheld by the circuit court here the case was lost.

The city at that time filed the demurrer on the grounds that she showed no cause for action in that the charges were against certain city officials, not the city itself. This time she rectifies that error.

Mrs. Bluel alleges that by so cutting down the grade there the value of her half block, or three lots, there was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

Mrs. Elmer Thompson and Mrs. Bird Thompson of Bedison spent yesterday visiting friends in Maryville.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS CONSIDERS REPAIR WORK TONIGHT.

MAY ENFORCE WALLS

City Body Plans Reinforceemennts for East and South Sides—To Fix Receiving Well.

Several new improvements, or rather repairs, of the municipal water plant works at the 102 river are to be considered at the monthly meeting of the board of public works tonight, in addition to the usual routine business and allowing of bills.

One of the propositions to come up tonight is to strengthen and repair the receiving well at the plant. This is the well east of the plant, from which the river water from the reservoirs is pumped direct to the stand pipe in the north part of town.

While it is not intended to enlarge the well, it is proposed to better brace and strengthen the walls, so that there is no danger of a cave-in in case of flood or heavy rains.

It is also proposed to place channel irons through the east wall of the pumping plant, to further strengthen it and lessen the danger of its caving in during floods or heavy rains. These irons are run through the walls and thence out some distance east of the plant and anchored. This prevents the wall from leaning either way.

To Repair Reservoir, Too.

The repair of the outer reservoir, where the river cut through recently, also will probably be considered tonight.

The laying of larger mains from the pump house to the sand point wells has already been ordered, but not installed yet, S. G. Gillam, president of the board, said this morning. The south wall of the pumping plant also is being strengthened by a concrete retaining wall.

COUNCIL MEETS TOMORROW

City Dads to Take Up Sidewalk Improvement But Not Paving at Regular Meet.

The city council will meet in regular monthly session tomorrow night, but little business outside of routine matters is scheduled to come up for consideration. No paving propositions will come up, it is reported, as the time for filing remonstrances to the proposed paving does not expire until August 15, and no new paving has since been broached.

Ordinances to install sidewalks in several parts of the city, as ordered at the last meeting by the council, will be presented for passage tonight by City Attorney W. H. Crawford.

PLAN 2 BRIDGES IN MONROE

County Court Decides to Reconstruct Third of Spans Over White Cloud Following Inspection.

Two wooden bridges over the White Cloud creek, in Monroe township, washed out by the recent floods, are to be built at once by the county, following an inspection in that district yesterday by the county court. One will be built east of the farm of A. L. Oakerson, while the other will span the creek near the Reaksecker place.

An inspection of just one section in that vicinity yesterday by the court members brought out the fact that there are six bridges over the White Cloud damaged or washed out, and the roads there made impassable. Each averaged a length of between 60 and 125 feet.

The temporary bridges to be built at once will cost about $200 each. Part of the old bridge is still left near the Oakerson place, so that the cost of its reconstruction might be less than $200.

FEDS PLAY TIP TOPS SUNDAY

St. Joseph Team Comes for Game Here With Strengthened Maryville Nine.

The Maryville Federals will play the St. Joseph Tip Tops at Federal park at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Federals had intended to play out of town Sunday, but on account of the changing of the Chautauqua from the Normal park to the Central school grounds it was decided to hold a game here.

The Tip Tops are considered a rather fast amateur team. They were slated to appear here last Sunday, but on account of rain and tied-up train service Hopkins was substituted.

The Maryville lineup will be: Willey, p; Richardson, c; Tilson, 1b; Morris, 2b; Miller, 3b; Scott, ss; Ham, lf; Carmichael, cf; Woodard, rf.

The infield of the Federals will probably be further strengthened prior to the game here with the Stanberry Red Sox, August 15, Cleve Funk, manager, announced today.

AT WARSAW FORTS

TEUTONS BATTER FORTIFICATIONS AROUND POLISH CAPITAL.

RUSS SLOWLY RETREAT

Slavs Continue to Give Way to German-Austro Assaults—Fighting Almost Ceases in the West.

London, Aug. 5.—After having tried for three weeks to force the Russians to evacuate Warsaw and the Polish salient by encircling movements from the north and pressure from the west, the Austro-Germans have commenced attacks on the fortresses of the capital and those of Lomza and Ostrolenka to the northeast and Ivangorod to the southeast.

Berlin claims that the Russians have been driven back to the advanced defenses of Lomza; that the Narew has been crossed near Ostrolenka; that driven out of their Blonie positions the Russians have fallen back into the outer lines of Warsaw, which the Bavarians are attacking, and that the Austrians have captured the western part of the fortress of Ivangorod.

Thus, what should prove a decisive battle for the Polish capital has begun in earnest.

In the meantime Field Marshal von Mackenzen is slowly advancing from the southeast between the Vistula and the Bug in an effort to cut off the Russian armies, which apparently are making a leisurely exit from Warsaw and the western lines; while General von Buelow, in his wider encircling movement through Courland, has reached Kupischki, on the Vilna-Petrograd railway.

Although the operations of Von Mackenzen and Von Buelow appear to offer the most dangerous threats to the retiring Russian armies, the Russian general staff is paying more attention to Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who has been trying with more or less success to force the line of the Narew. Here the Russians are offering the most stubborn resistance, and, according to an official dispatch from Petrograd, in two battles of three days each succeeded in checking the Germans and inflicting heavy losses on them. The Russians also admit severe casualties.

When the dispatch was sent a third battle was in progress. Berlin claims that in this battle the Germans have been successful and have forced a crossing of the Narew near Ostrolenka.

On the whole the Russians, so far as can be gathered from official repotts, are making an extremely orderly retirement. They are losing comparatively few prisoners and, except for the thirty-two guns abandoned to the west of Ivangorod, the Germans make no claims to the capture of heavy pieces of artillery.

Quiet has settled down along the western front, except in the Argonne and the Vosges, where German attempts to recapture lost ground or take new trenches have failed, according to the French communication.

The extra legs protrude from the left side about three ribs back of the shoulder and are developing into well formed legs.

BOOSTERS PLAYING GUILFORD

Weekly Base Ball Contest On at Normal—Wakeman Twirls for Lomal—Wakeman Twirls for Lo-

The Maryville Boosters and the Guilford baseball team played at the Normal grounds this afternoon, with a fairly large crowd of rooters present. The game began shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, so as to permit the Guilford players and fans to catch the Burlington southbound train. All other remaining games of the season will be held at the usual time of 4 o'clock.

Very little line can be gotten on the Guilford team in advance, as the nine was but recently organized and has therefore played few games. They have several non-resident players, however, which will materially strengthen the team.

The lineup of the two teams this afternoon is:

Guilford—Ham, p; McKee, c; Kelley, 1b; Hubble, 2b; E. Richards, 3b; Noland, ss; Cleo Richards, lf; Brittain, cf; Robinson, rf.

Maryville—Wakeman, p; Wogan, c; Wray, 1b; Still, 2b; Browning, 3b; Palfreyman, ss; E. Adams, lf; Vandersloot, cf; Moore, rf.

Treatise on "the Pest," Is Given by the Government—To Cure Its Wounds. Try These Methods.

Throughout portions of the south, east and the central states the chigger or red bug, scientifically known as the harvest mite, and which is microsopic in size, often attacks a person when walking through long grass or other vegetation. They do not choose any particular part of the body, but attack the exposed portions first.

Thus the barefoot boy in many parts of the South and East has become acquainted with these red eight-legged pests. They enter the large sweat tubes or pores of the skin, where their progress is necessarily slow, and a few hours later the spot where they entered becomes very painful or causes intense itching.

Chiggers are most abundant and troublesome in the tropics, but are generally distributed in the Gulf states up the Mississippi river to Missouri and Illinois, and through the Atlantic coast states to northern New Jersey. These pests are most bothersome between the months of June and October.

The large inflamed spots which the presence of the mites under the first layer of skin cause are often diagnosed as hives, nettle rash, urticaria, or "wheals," and closely resemble the "bites" of fleas and of some mosquitoes. A characteristic of the harvest mite attack is that on the second or third day a minute water blister usually develops in the middle of the infested area.

To walk among blackberry or other shrubbery, or to come in contact with grasses or similar herbage along streams or pools, on edges of marshes, or under trees near such places the mites inhabit, is to invite an attack. It is obvious, therefore, that the best preventive is to avoid exposure. If a bath in hot water, or water containing salt or strong soap, however, is taken within a few hours after exposure, no ill effects will be experienced.

Sulphur is the best preventive for chiggers. It has been found, according to the bulletin, that a person walking through vegetation is attacked from the knees down, so by sifting flowers of sulphur in the underclothing from the knees downward, and into the shoes and stockings, these mites are eliminated to a great extent. Naphthalene is also successfully used in the same manner, and is a safeguard against several other forms of man-infesting tropical insect pests.

After a person has become exposed to an attack of harvest mites, an application to the affected parts of a moderately strong solution of ammonia is possibly the best counter-irritant. Because the poison secreted by the mites is acid, other counter-irritants such as bicarbonate of soda, or common cooking soda or saleratus, may be substituted in saturated solution. If the suffering is severe, a dilute tincture of iodine or collodion should be lightly applied.

Where a large area is to be rid of mites, it is recommended by the bulletin that the grass be closely cut, weeds eliminated, and useless herbage mowed as closely as feasible, so as to expose the mites to the sun. It may be practical to spray the grass and other plants, after cutting, with flowers of sulphur or a dilute spray of kerosene emulsion in which sulphur has been mixed.

Grasses bordering on ponds frequented by cattle, wild blackberry bushes, and similar plants should be cut down and destroyed in the vicinity of houses where people are liable to be infested by the mites by passing through them. Vegetable growth has been successfully kept down by the use of cattle, sheep and goats.

ADOPT COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW

South Carolina and Texas Make Education Necessary—Four Southern States Out.

With South Carolina and Texas enrolled on the list of states that have compulsory school attendance laws as a result of 1915 legislation, the states without compulsory laws are now reduced to four, Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi.

While the South Carolina and Texas laws are not as comprehensive and strict as those of some of the other states that have had compulsory laws for many years, they are a distinct recognition of the compulsory principle and represent a big step forward in the two states.

The Texas law requires all children between the ages of 8 and 14 to attend school 60 days the first year, 80 days the second year and 100 days thereafter in every school year. It provides for attendance officers, fixes penalties for violations, and provides for the establishment of parental or truant schools where necessary. The law goes into effect September 1, 1916.

The South Carolina law is optional, but the state authorities are hopeful that a large proportion of the districts will vote to have the law apply to them. State Superintendent Swearigen is urging that "every local tax district circulate its compulsory attendance petition at once, hold its election, and put every child in school during 1915-16."

Uses Auto to Kill Gophers.

Since the gophers are becoming such pests in this locality a few of our farmers and citizens might try this method of an Iowa farmer who lives south of Avoca, and had been having a great deal of trouble of late by the gophers eating and digging in his alfalfa.

He took his automobile to the field and attached a rubber hose to the exhaust pipe and placed the other end of the hose into a newly made mound. In a very short time he saw smoke coming from the ground 150 feet away. He says the experiment resulted in the killing of a large number of gophers, and he has not been annoyed by the pests since.

SOW ALFALFA IN SUMMER.

Experience in Iowa Gives Preference to This Practice Over Spring Seeding.

On most Iowa soils the surest method of getting a good stand of alfalfa is to seed in late summer according to the state experiment authorities.

In this method the seeding may be on summer fallowed land, plowed in the spring or the preceding fall, or on land which has just been cropped with winter wheat, or from which red clover or oats has been cut early for hay. According to facts gathered by the agricultural experiment station at the Iowa state college, late summer seeding in Iowa has only about nine per cent of failures, while spring seeding has twenty-three per cent.

If alfalfa seeding is to follow the removal of a winter wheat or red clover or oats crop, the land is prepared much as though for summer fallowing. It is very important that the crop be gotten off the land at the earliest possible date, manure applied and the land disked and plowed.

When the work has been thorough and commenced as early as possible, it has been very satisfactory except in seasons of very low rainfall. The summer fallow is, however, considered as the surer, when the work is thorough.

The chief advantage of fall seeding lies in the fact that the land may be quite well freed from weeds before the alfalfa is sown. The main disadvantages are that more work will be required to keep the land in such condition as will insure a sufficient supply of moisture, and also that insect ravages are more likely to be fatal.

Production of Phosphate Rock.

The production of phosphate rock in the United States in 1914, as shown by figures compiled by W. C. Phalen, of the United States Geological Survey, was 2,734,043 long tons, valued at $9,608,041, a decrease of 377,178 long tons in quantity and of $2,188,190 in value from the output of 1913. The output came, as usual, principally from Florida, Tennessee, and South Carolina, in the order named.

Brick and Tile Production.

The great brick and tile industries of the United States in 1914 produced material to the value of $129,588,822. This was a considerable decrease, according to the United States Geological Survey, from the value for 1913, which was $143,296,757, but as compared with the output for a number of years preceding it shows a general growth for the industry. Compared with 1911, the figures for 1914 show an increase of $1,871,201; compared with 1908 they show a gain of $21,526,615.

WILSON'S POLICY CRITICISED

German-Americans Call Munitions Traffic Unmoral.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Protests against the "unmoral traffic in arms and ammunition" with England, the English viewpoint in public opinion on the European war and criticism of the government's attitude toward Germany were expressed in resolutions unanimously adopted by the National German American alliance, assembled here in its eighth annual convention.

The resolutions declared the loyalty of German-Americans represented at the convention to be steadfast, but say, "We deplore that our government has on the part of England practically permitted violations of international law and interference with commerce, to the detriment of American interests and has on the part of another country, Mexico, supinely suffered the destruction of American life and property, while in the case of Germany it quickly assumed a threatening and uncompromising attitude."

Charge Jews Used as Shields in Battle

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—Members of the executive council of the B'nai B'rith, in session here, declared that the condition of the Jews in Russia had not been improved notwithstanding reports of concessions at the beginning of the European war. It was charged by speakers that Jews were being used as shields by the Russian soldiers in the trenches.

NEGRO CELEBRATE

HUNDREDS TOOK PART IN EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION.

CONCERTS DREW MANY

Musicales of Omaha Band Proved Popular Among Whites, Too—Dance and Athletic Contests Held.

The negroes of Maryville are at work again today, after one big day of joy and jollification yesterday, in celebration of the emancipation of their race. And it might be said right here that there were more white persons at the celebration than negroes, and apparently they had just as great a time.

The celebration began shortly after noon and continued until after midnight, with very little intermission. It began with speaking and music, songs and athletic contests at the Franklin school grounds and wound up with a grand ball in the old armory hall. The emancipation proclamation was read by Mrs. James Malcolm for Miss Dorothy Palmer, who was ill.

Dr. M. O. Ritchie of St. Joseph, quite a well known negro orator, also appeared yesterday, but not being on the program, no speech was made by him.

The base ball game between the Black Sluggers and the Maryville Federals at Federal park resulted in a victory for the Feds by a score of 13 to 0.

These Won in Athletics.

Those winning the athletic contests yesterday afternoon were:

First race—William Binkley, first; Harley Page, second.

Second race—Henry Reynolds, first; William Binkley, second.

Third race—James Halasey, first; William Binkley, second.

Those winning first prize received a price of $1, and those finishing second received 50 cents.

A band concert was held at night on the court house lawn, and the human chariot race was held from Second to Fourth street on Main.

INSPECTS MILITIA EQUIPMENT

Captain Walter Mann, St. Joseph, Says Company F and Band Supplies Are Good.

The equipment and supplies of Company F, Fourth regiment, National Guards, and of the Fourth Regiment band were inspected yesterday afternoon by Captain Adjutant Walter Mann of St. Joseph. While both the company and band need some additional equipment before going to annual encampment next month, Captain Mann pronounced the present supplies good and well taken care of.

The entire equipment of Company F has been stacked and assorted in such shape by Captain John K. Ross and the quartermaster that the inspection of the supplies was made in a half hour, while generally it takes from one to two hours.

Captain Ross will probably have about forty-five men in encampment, while Chief Musician T. B. Maulding of the band expects to take a full quota, too. The encampment will be held September 6 to 12 inclusive at Kansas City.

INSISTS FRYE SINKING LEGAL

Germany Unyielding In Refusal to Admit Act Violated Treaty.

OFFERS TO MAKE PAYMENT.

Stipulates, However, That It Shall Not Be Viewed as Satisfaction For Violation of American Rights—Asks U. S. to Arbitrate at Hague.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Germany is unyielding in its refusal to concede that the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich in the south Atlantic last January was a violation of American rights under the Prussian-American treaty or international law.

In reply to the last representations of the United States, the German foreign office, in a note made public here by the state department, reiterates a previous justification of Germany's course, declares again its willingness to pay for the ship and accepts a proposal first advanced by the United States—that the amount of damages be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country.

Such a sum the German government pledges itself to pay promptly, with the stipulation, however, that the payment shall not be viewed as a satisfaction for violation of American rights. Should that method be unsatisfactory, Germany invites the United States to arbitration at The Hague.

It is practically certain that if the United States allows the dispute to go to The Hague, it will insist that meanwhile Germany refrain from violation of what the United States contends are its rights.

The entire dispute revolves about article 13 of the Prussian-American treaty. That article, the United States contends, specifically protected the William P. Frye from being sunk, although it did not protect a contraband cargo.

Takes Opposite View.

Germany takes precisely an opposite view, contending that the article only obligated it to pay damages. Furthermore, Germany replies that as the Frye's cargo of wheat destined to England was contraband, the ship was liable to confiscation, and that as an attempt to take the prize into a German port would have imperiled its captor, the destruction of the Frye "was according to general principles of international law."

"The right of sinking," says the German note, "is not mentioned in the treaty, and is therefore neither expressly permitted nor expressly prohibited, so that on his point the party stipulations must be supplemented by the general rules of international law. It is not disputed by the American government that according to the general principles of international law a belligerent is authorized in sinking neutral vessels under almost any conditions for carrying contraband."

The note argues at length for the German interpretation of the disputed treaty provision, contending that its intent is to establish a resonable compromise between the military interests of the belligerents' contracting party and the commercial interests of the neutral party.

"On the one hand," says the note, "the belligerent party is to have the right to prevent the transportation of war supplies to his adversaries, even when carried on vessels of the neutral party; on the other hand, the commerce and navigation of the neutral party is to be interfered with as little as possible by the measures necessary for such prevention and reasonable compensation is to be paid for any inconvenience or damage which may, nevertheless, ensue from the proceedings of the belligerent party."

That, in short, is Germany's argument, based on its interpretation of the treaty, and to that the view of the United States is squarely opposed.

REDFIELD ADJOURNS EASTLAND INQUIRY

Suspends Quiz Until Federal Grand Jury Acts.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce adjourned his inquiry into the Eastland disaster and will return to Washington until after the federal grand jury's investigation is concluded.

James Lee Ackerson, a government naval constructor from Washington, was called as a witness.

The witness said in the United States navy water ballast was used only on certain colliers and auxiliary vessels. Ackerson said he believed the Eastland's water ballast system safe if properly handled. He added that any vessel using water ballast required careful attention.

William P. Eels of Philadelphia, supervising inspector of the Travelers' Insurance company, testified he was engineer of the Eastland in 1904 and 1905. He said that the Eastland listed badly on one occasion while leaving the South Haven (Mich.) harbor, but that he considered it a safe boat if its water ballast was properly handled.

THIRTY PASSENGERS BURNED

Runaway Oil Car Hits Santa Fe Train In California.

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 5.—A runaway oil car collided with an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe local passenger train here, killing the engineer and setting fire to the train. The fireman and an express messenger are believed to have been burned to death.

The oil car, running down grade at a speed near sixty miles an hour, wrecked the oil burning locomotive of the passenger train, raining its cargo of oil over the coaches. The oil ignited from the firebox and the whole train instantly burst into flames. Thirty passengers were burned, but, according to railroad officials, none fatally. Automobiles, pressed into ambulance service at Yorba, brought the injured here.

More Marines Landed.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The Nashville landed marines at Cape Haitien, the navy department was advised. They sought to protect the city from revolutionists, expected to arrive soon.

Three Revolutions In Portugal.

Lisbon, Aug. 5.—Alarming reports are current in the capital of no less than three separate revolutions in Portugal. Riots and assaults are of daily occurrence.

Belgian Steamer Sunk by Submarine.

London, Aug. 5.—The Belgian steamer Koophendel, of 1,885 tons gross, was sunk by a German submarine. Nine of the crew were landed.

FIFTY LIVES LOST IN ERIE DISASTER

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—Erie has listed twenty-seven dead in the mile long wreckage strewn path through the heart of the city swept by flood. But little impression was made on the vast amount of wreckage piled in places 100 feet high and believed by the coroner and others to conceal as many more victims.

The early estimate of property loss, placed at $3,000,000, was not changed by Fire Chief McMahon. He said that 300 houses and fifty store buildings were demolished by the waters of Mill creek, sent out of its banks by a cloudburst and the bursting if the Glenwood dam.

Mill creek empties into Lake Erie a mile from the center of the city. At its outlet searchers with nets are recovering bodies as they float out into the lake.

Obituary.

John M. Scott died at his home, on West First street, in this city, at 10 o'clock on the night of July 30, 1915, after a long illness. He had been partially paralyzed for nearly seven years. Mr. Scott and his brother, Winfield Scott, now deceased, came west in 1877 and settled on a farm five miles northwest of Maryville. John M. Scott was the son of Abraham Park Scott and Mary Woods Scott, and was born in Smithfield, Jefferson county, O., in 1843. He moved with his father to Birmingham, Guernsey county, in 1848. He had five brothers and one sister, and they are all deceased with the exception of one brother, William Woods Scott of Dayton, Mich. His wife, Mrs. Rachel A. Watson Scott, and a daughter, Mrs. Anna Cash of Cambridge, O., survive him. Mr. Scott's grandfather, Rev. Abraham Scott was a Presbyterian minister and did missionary work in eastern Ohio when that part of the state was a wilderness and inhabited only by a few white families and Indians. Two uncles of the deceased, the Hon. William Scott of Guernsey county, and the Hon. Josiah Scott of Cadiz, O., and their cousin, Hon. Josiah Scott of Bucyrus, O., all served their counties in the legislature at the same time and helped frame the state's constitution. His ancestors settled in Pennsylvania in 1650, when the population was less than 12,000. Mr. Scott's father died in 1889, and his mother in 1914 at the age of 100 years. John Scott was a Republican in politics and a member of the Presbyterian church. He was a gentleman in every sense of the word, kind-hearted, lovable, jovial and sympathetic, and always ready to do a kind act for some one. If he had an enemy it was unknown, and he made a friend of all.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
